

Bible Time with Kids Planning Worksheet

Take some time to pray.

Ideas to get started...

Wisdom in leading and clarity as you form your plan
Patience as you walk alongside your children
For God's Word to come alive in your children's hearts
For God's joy and grace to permeate your home as you study the Bible together

Brainstorm a list of things you would love to do during Bible time.

Choose ONE thing from your list to be your "home base."

This is where you will begin for as long as it takes to build the habit of daily Bible time.

————— Now onto the practicalities! —————

(Remember, these things can be flexible, but it is helpful to have a plan to fall back on)

What time of day will you do Bible time?

Where will you do your Bible time?

Do you need to locate/purchase any materials? Story Bible, devotional, worship music, etc.

Where will you store your Bible time materials so they are easy to access daily?

Now, set a date to begin and get started! Remember to take your time as your family grows into this new habit together.
